To the Chair Transmission Lessor Corporation

As required by section 31(1)(b) of the Public Finance and Audit Act 1987 and section 13(3) of the Schedule to the Public Corporations Act 1993, I have audited the financial report of the Transmission Lessor Corporation for the financial year ended 30 June 2019.

Opinion

In my opinion, the accompanying financial report gives a true and fair view of the financial position of the Transmission Lessor Corporation as at 30 June 2019, their financial performance and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with the Treasurer's Instructions issued under the provisions of the Public Finance and Audit Act 1987, section 13(2) of the Schedule to the Public Corporations Act 1993 and Australian Accounting Standards.

The financial report comprises:

- a Statement of Comprehensive Income for the year ended 30 June 2019
- a Statement of Financial Position as at 30 June 2019
- a Statement of Changes in Equity for the year ended 30 June 2019
- a Statement of Cash Flows for the year ended 30 June 2019
- notes, comprising significant accounting policies and other explanatory information
- a Certificate from the Chair.

Basis for opinion

I conducted the audit in accordance with the Public Finance and Audit Act 1987 and Australian Auditing Standards. My responsibilities under those standards are further described in the 'Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial report' section of my report. I am independent of the Transmission Lessor Corporation. The Public Finance and Audit Act 1987 establishes the independence of the Auditor-General. In conducting the audit, the relevant ethical requirements of APES 110 Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants have been met.

I believe that the audit evidence obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my opinion.

Responsibilities of the directors for the financial report

The directors of the Transmission Lessor Corporation are responsible for the preparation of the financial report that gives a true and fair view in accordance with the Treasurer's Instructions issued under the provisions of the Public Finance and Audit Act 1987 and the Australian Accounting Standards, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of the financial report that gives a true and fair view and is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

The directors are responsible for overseeing the entity's financial reporting process.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial report

My objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial report as a whole is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes my opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of this financial report.

As part of an audit in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards, I exercise professional judgement and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. I also:

- identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial report, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control
- obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Transmission Lessor Corporation's internal control
- evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the directors
- evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial report, including the disclosures, and whether the financial report represents the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

My report refers only to the financial report described above and does not provide assurance over the integrity of electronic publication by the entity on any website nor does it provide an opinion on other information which may have been hyperlinked to/from the report.

I communicate with the Chair about, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that I identify during the audit.

11 Contingent asset

On 31 October 2000 the Corporation leased its transmission network prescribed assets under a 200 year finance lease. The lease agreement makes a provision for the potential sale of these assets in the future, to the lessee, if the Corporation obtains lawful right to sell its right, title and interest in the assets. If this right is not obtained or the lessee's option to purchase is not exercised the prescribed network assets will be returned to the Corporation or its nominee at the end of the lease term.

In the event that the lessees default under their respective leases, they are obliged to return the asset to the Corporation. Although at that time an asset will be recognised, no amount has been recognised in the Statement of Financial Position as the likelihood of default eventuating is remote.

12 Contingent liability

The former business operations of the Corporation created potential exposure to environmental matters, including the potential for oil spills, which the Corporation may have been required to remedy in the future. As a result of the sale and lease of the business, all environmental obligations in respect of the former business operations were transferred to the purchaser/lessee.

In the unlikely event that the Corporation defaults under the transmission network lease or the transmission network land lease with respect to its legal entitlement to grant the leases, the Corporation is obliged to refund the net present value (as at the termination date) of so much of the post termination date rent obligations as were discharged by the prepaid rents.

No amount has been recognised as the likelihood of the Corporation defaulting is remote.

Under the terms of the transmission network leases, where the lessee effects a discrete improvement which is outside the ordinary course of maintenance, modification, alteration or renewal, do not form part of the transmission network under a clause of the lease and is not necessary for the lessee to comply with its obligations under the lease, then that improvement will be owned by the lessee and will not form part of the assets leased under the transmission network lease.

These improvements are known as non-transmission assets.

At the expiry of the lease, the Corporation may elect to own a non-transmission asset. If the Corporation elects to own a non-transmission asset, it will be transferred to the Corporation at its market value.
